Billy Evans's Puzzle Plays Written Especially For This Paper by the Famous American League Umpire."

DESIRE on the part of the bats—man to also act as umpire was the came of a very poculiar mixup in a minor league game last summer. It was a play that would have mever come up had not the batsman made a reling contrary to the one rendered by the numpire on the banes Hero is how it happened.

The batsman hit a buil to the left of the shortshop, and it looked like a clean hit, so much so that the runner allowed up a trifle, believing that to play could be made on the ball. The showtre, made a sensational stop of the drive and an equally brilliant throw to first hase. Hearing the shouts of his leam mates to hurry, the france put on speed and slid into first base. It was a very close play, but the tumpire ruled that the batsman was safe, and so nonde known his verified by thinsting the palms of his hands downward.

Started for Bench.

The batter who hit the ball believed that he had been thrown out, and, getting up on his feet, started in the direction of his beach. His team mates rushed out to meet him, informing him that the umpires had called him safe. He made a rush back to the hag, but before he could against reach the base, the first baseman touched, him with the hall. The umpire declared the runner put. The decision caused a heated diagainst wan the game, the disputed against wan the game, the disputed point was never definitely settled by the head of the lengue in which the play took nince.

Referred to Big Lengues.

The ruling of the umpire naturally caused much discussion, and the play took of the discussion, and the play took of the considered from every augle by to 20 men and the American and National lengues to 11 men, each means that ever 400 ball players or alleged ball players will be heaved out of their soft tobs and will have to go back to manual labor. Each of the 24 big league clubs now is carrying an average of 46 men.

Cutting Out is Big Job.

The job of picking 21 men out of the bunch that now clutters up the roster is a huge job for the managers. John McGraw, of the Glants, has the hardest job. John has 22 players on his list. That means he will have to "cam" 31 players by May 1. John hasn't seen half of his squad in action and it will keep him busy during the training season looking 'em over.

John, as many will remember, replicher. He also let go of "Hank" leased Dick Rudolph, the great Roston Gowdy, star of the 1911 world series.

to the woods.

WHI Save $30,000.

Reducing the player limit to 21 means that the clubs each will save about $20,000 a year in salaries and traveling expenses. This saving will make up the extra wages the magnates have had to pay their stars to keep them from jumping to the Federa It will mean that the clubs in 1912 before the Federal league became a meance.

The reduction of the playing limit to 20 men will save the Federal league became a meance.

The reduction of the playing limit to 20 men will save the Federal league became will be save the Federal league clubs and that means that many of the clubs, with a fair break in wenther conditions and a fairly tight race, will make money in 1915, even if the attendance is not very much greater than it was in 1915. Those Federal league clubs that ranged between $15,000 and $30,000.

McGraw Wonders How He Is To Cut

By Frank G. Menke.

New York, Dec. 18.—Now that three big leagues have voted to adopt the suggestion made about a month ago—cut the list of players down to 20 or 21 men—it begins to look as though a lot of plumbers, book.
